

THE PRESIDENT

SENDS IN MESSAGE TO WARRIORS OF CONGRESS

Advising Them to Cease Their Consideration of Income Tax.

SUPREME COURT WILL NOT REVERSE

Suggests an Amendment to the Constitution That Will Permit of the Collection of Such Tax With Legal Sanction.

Washington, June 16.—Recommending legislation looking to the placing of a two per cent tax upon the net income of corporations and also the adoption of an amendment to the constitution providing for the imposition of an income tax without an apportionment among the several states, President Taft today sent to congress a message embodying his views on the subject. This action followed a protracted special meeting of the cabinet which lasted from 9 to 11:30 a. m.

In his message the president speaks of the apparent inability of congress to agree to an inheritance tax, and as regards an income tax he refers to the decision of the supreme court in the case of Pollock vs. Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., in which the court held the tax to be unconstitutional unless apportioned according to population.

To the senate and House of Representatives:

"It is the constitutional duty of the president from time to time to recommend to the consideration of congress such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient.

"In my inaugural address immediately preceding the inauguration, I called a session for the revision of tariff. I referred to the then rapidly increasing deficit and pointed out the obligation on the part of the treasury of the tariff so as to supply simple revenues for the government. I pointed out then the need of an income tax.

"The House of Representatives has adopted the suggestion and has provided for the collection of such tax. In the senate, the action of its finance committee and the course of the debate indicate that it may not agree on this plan of bringing in revenue and may make up the deficit by imposing greater duties on imports from the United States by foreign countries.

"The decision of the supreme court in the income cases deprived the national government of a power which has been of previous decisions of the court. It was generally supposed the government had, it is undoubtedly a power the national government ought to have. It might be indispensable to the nation's life in great crisis. Although I have not considered a constitutional amendment as necessary to the exercise of certain phases of this power, a mature consideration has satisfied me that an amendment is the only proper course for its establishment to its full extent.

"I therefore recommend to the congress that both houses, by a two-thirds vote shall propose an amendment to the constitution conferring the power to levy an income tax upon the national government with apportionment among the states in proportion to population.

"This course is much to be preferred to the one proposed of recommending a law one judiciously declared to be unconstitutional. For the congress to assume that the court will reverse itself, and to enact legislation on such an assumption will not strengthen popular confidence in the construction of the constitution. It is much wiser policy to accept the decision and remedy the defect by amendment in due and regular course.

"Again it is clear that by the enactment of the proposed law, the congress will not be bringing money into the treasury to meet the present deficiency, but by putting on the statute book a law already there and never repealed, will simply be suggested to the executives of the government their possible duty to invoke litigation. If the court should maintain its former view, no tax would be collected at all. If it should ultimately reverse itself, still no taxes would have been collected until after protracted delay.

"It is said the difficulty and delay in securing the approval of three-fourths of the states will destroy all chance of adopting the amendment. Of course, no one can speak with certainty on this point but I have become convinced that a great majority of the people of this country are in favor of vesting the national government with power to levy an income tax and that they will secure the adoption of the amendment in the states, if proposed to them.

"Since the decision in the Pollock case left power in the national government to levy an excise tax which corporations have the same purpose as a corporation income tax and is free from certain objections urged to the proposed income tax measure.

"I therefore recommend an amendment to the tariff bill imposing upon all corporations and joint

SENATOR FOSTER RAISES HIS VOICE

Against Establishment of Free Trade System With Them,

Believing It Would Destroy All Hope for Their Independence.

Washington, June 16.—Opposing the provision of the tariff bill by which a restrictive amount of sugar and tobacco are to be admitted free of duty from the Philippines, Senator Foster, addresses the senate today as soon as the session began. He expressed the opinion that establishment of free trade relations between the United States and the island would destroy all hope of their independence.

Showing an increase of Hawaiian sugar production from a small quantity to over 400,000 tons last year, Mr. Foster predicted that the Philippine product would vastly exceed the 200,000 tons provided for free admission in the pending bill. As the Hawaiian islands had not attracted Americans as settlers on the soil, so he said Americans would never settle the Philippines. He opposed any policy of colonization that would never result to any good for the community. The islanders have a race hatred of the Americans and would today establish an independent government were it not for the presence of the United States troops there.

Is Right of Members to Identify Themselves With Union.

Cleveland, June 16.—There will be no strike of the Longshoremen on the great lakes, according to T. V. O'Connor, international president of the Longshoremen's Union, who arrived here early today.

"The vote upon the question of declaring a strike," Mr. O'Connor said, "is being counted by the clerks at the headquarters in Detroit. Doubtless I will know by noon what the actual vote is, but whether I shall announce the result today, I cannot now say. My prediction is that it will be 149 against a strike. The vote was so close that we had to go over it again the last time it was taken on the subject."

Upward of 2,000 longshoremen voted on the subject.

"There is no rumor I want corrected," said Mr. O'Connor "and that is that the movement among the Longshoremen is sympathetic with the strikers of the marine engineers, seamen, cooks and firemen. That is not the case. We are acting independently. We have our own individual grievance. The main complaint of the union is the stand taken by the Lake Carriers association against unionism. Wages are not at an issue this time. We claim that every man has a personal privilege to belong to a union if he so desires."

Mr. O'Connor also said he is not in favor of a strike by the Longshoremen at this time, and hoped that the final count of the ballot would show the members to be against it. "The general business conditions do not warrant such a move at this time," he added.

STATE TICKET

NOMINATED BY HIGH TARIFF MEN OF PENNA.

Taffy Jar Opened and the Sweetest of All Poured Over

PHILANDER KNOX AND PRES. TAFT

Whose Election Saved the Country From Dire Destruction.

Policy of Protection of the Highest Sort is Their Creed.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 16.—The republican state convention met here today and nominated the following ticket to be voted for in November:

Auditor General—State Senator Arthur E. Simon, of Erie.

State Treasurer—Former State Senator Jeremiah H. Stober, of Lancaster.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court—Judge Robert Von Mueschke, of the common pleas court, Philadelphia.

The platform in part says:

"We congratulate the people of this commonwealth and of the country that the cloud of distrust, caused by the thought of possible democratic success and tariff tinkering which overspread and darkened our business and financial affairs was dispelled and confidence restored by the election of Taft and Sherman and a republican congress; that already business is improving; that capital is ready to embark; labor waiting for the final adjustment of tariff that stands between us and an era of substantial and permanent prosperity, the like of which the country has not yet seen.

"The republicans of Pennsylvania embrace this first opportunity to give renewed expression to the confidence which they so emphatically expressed at the polls last November in the patriotism, ability, wisdom and fairness of William Howard Taft. His administration so auspiciously commenced by the selection of Pennsylvania's distinguished son, Philander C. Knox, will, we are confident, be notable for the permanent betterment of our domestic and foreign relations.

"Standards in our foreign relations, President Taft's profound knowledge of the science of government, his deep human sympathy, his conceded love of justice and appreciation of the real needs of a prosperous and intelligent people will enable him to carry forward the great policies of the Roosevelt administration which he was so conspicuously identified and it may well be expected that under his wise leadership those policies will be adopted and such additional ones adopted as will make real and effective the American demand for the equality of right and opportunity at home, and that respect and those privileges abroad which are accorded to the most favored nation.

"We stand as we have always stood for the protection of American labor and industry. The republican party is fulfilling its promises to revise the tariff. The position taken by the republican senators and representatives from Pennsylvania and their intelligent and effective work in the task of revising the tariff meet our most cordial approbation.

"The remainder of the platform is devoted to state issues.

MURDER

Charge Likely to Follow Examination of Woman's Body.

New York, June 16.—After having been buried since June 7, the body of Mrs. Augusta Roberts, late of Columbia, Conn., was disinterred from its grave in the north Tarrytown cemetery, yesterday, and an autopsy performed. The examination disclosed two large bruises, evidently dealt by a weapon on the back of the head.

The husband of the woman, who is confined in a Brooklyn jail on charges of intoxication, refused tonight to discuss the reports that he had quarreled with his wife prior to her sudden death. He hanged himself in his cell last Sunday morning, but was discovered and cut down.

Examination of Mrs. Roberts' body was by a court order.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—Premier Stolypin, Foreign Minister Isvolsky, Count Von Potemkin, the German ambassador and the German military and naval attaches left here this morning to board the Russian imperial yacht, Polar Star to join Emperor Nicholas in Pitkin Bay, where the meeting between Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William, of Germany will occur tomorrow. Emperor William already is on his way to the rendezvous.

The meeting of the two emperors in 1906, occurred in this same vicinity. All the conferences and festivities will be held on board the yachts Standart and Hohenzollern, the former with the Russian emperor and the latter with the German emperor on board.

Information gleaned from important Russo-German sources bears out the intimation conveyed in these dispatches when the meeting was first announced that the importance of the visit lies in the manifestation of the friendly relations between the two empires have not suffered by the recent action in the Balkans.

CROWN POINT RACES

SIGNAL SYSTEMS FOR GUIDANCE

Of Speeders, Erected at Curves Where They Can See Them.

Crown Point, Ind., June 16.—Practice still faster than yesterday's speed work over the western Vanderbilt course was expected today.

Signal systems for the guidance of drivers were tried out today. Ordinary means of signalling are useless to a pilot going at the rate of a mile a minute. Through the mist of dust and oil spray he must be able to see his signals without distracting his attention from his steering wheel.

The system used today was imported from France and employs both numerals and arbitrary characters, placed on bill boards, 20 feet high and easily changed. The boards are placed at curves where the cars are compelled to slow down, giving the driver and his machinist a fleeting chance to look at them on glances. He learns what lap he is on, the speed he is making, his distance ahead or behind the leading car, whether the car ahead seems liable to slacken and whether in the judgment of the race managers speed should be slackened.

Booze and Public Is Left to Its Own Opinion While Court

MAKES UP ITS MIND IN THE CASE

Of One Catherine Clemmons Gould Who Seeks Big Alimony

And Divorce From Howard Brother-in-Law of Boni and Helie.

New York, June 16.—Evidence to justify Howard Gould in leaving his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, was again introduced today, in Mrs. Gould's suit for divorce and alimony.

Mrs. Gould has asserted that no prominent society woman's reputation is safe in the hands of her servants if their testimony is to be accepted against her and that their testimony in this case will be rebutted.

Mrs. Gould came into court today attired as usual in black and sat at the counsel table near Clarence J. Shearn, her attorney. When Mr. Gould entered he walked rapidly to a chair next to Delancy Nicoll, his counsel and busied himself looking over some papers. There was no sign of recognition on the part of either the plaintiff or defendant.

Curiously to hear the testimony of Howard Gould when he should take the witness stand in his own defense brought a throng of people to the court room. The court room was filled when the proceedings began and many were turned away from the doors. There were a large number of women present. Although Mrs. Gould kept her light veil over her face, she peered at the witness attentively.

Harry Turner, a florist, who had charge of the garden and flowers at Castle Gould, was the first witness called and told of several occasions when he had seen Mrs. Gould at the estate decidedly intoxicated in his opinion. At one time in July, 1904, he said, she came out into the garden and upbraided him, and appeared greatly excited and flushed. She reeled against the archway, he said, and was evidently under the influence of liquor.

At another time the witness said he was summoned to the office of the estate. Mrs. Gould was there and asked him if he was the "watchman," although she said she had seen him often about the estate and knew his position well. She kept repeating that she was Mrs. Howard Gould, he said, and appeared to be greatly excited and under the influence of liquor. Malloy, the manager of the estate was there and the witness said Mrs. Gould turned upon him (Malloy) and told him he was discharged and called him names which would not bear repeating.

William Wspong, a native of Port Washington, who did construction work on the Gould estate in 1902 and 1903, testified that he saw Mrs. Gould intoxicated once in 1903. He said he was down the road near the barn, and he heard her call loudly to Mile-a-Minute Murphy, who had charge of the automobiles, the witness said, and called Murphy a very objectionable name. The witness said he thought she was intoxicated at the time.

Gus Wright, who said he was a clerk, with such a pronounced English accent that the court did not at first understand what he meant, said he had seen Mrs. Gould intoxicated on two occasions at Castle Gould, where he was employed. "On November 6, 1906," the witness said, "she drove up to the office and wanted the keys to the store room, and said she wanted to clean the place out. I went to the store room with her and she took out lots of things and ordered 400 blankets and 200 quilts to be sent to the house at once. She talked excitedly in French to her chauffeur, and I did not know what she was saying. She acted as if she was intoxicated."

The following day, the witness said, Mrs. Gould summoned him and others to the office and used very strong language to them in telling them that they were discharged, and to get their money and clear out.

James Lauterson, a footman, employed by the Goulds, testified to seeing Mrs. Gould "stumble and she would have fallen if the footman had not caught her" as she was getting out of her automobile in New York during the winter of 1903-1904.

Reinold Carlson, who was employed at Castle Gould in 1904 and 1905 as head coachman, told of many incidents when, in his opinion, Mrs. Gould was under the influence of liquor.

One afternoon Mrs. Gould hurriedly ordered a phaeton and pair of horses, and told Carlson she wanted to catch a train. He started the horses at a rapid pace, but Mrs. Gould kept urging him to drive faster, saying: "I don't give a damn if you kill the horses. I must catch this train or there will be trouble at the stable." She galloped the horses all the way to the station and then unseated the train. Mrs. Gould told him to go to the stable and discharge everyone connected with it. This he did, but they were later reinstated.

Revenge is sweet and the Cigarmakers had it yesterday at San Felipe Park by taking both games of a double header from the Mansfield Tigers, as a return for the overwhelming defeat handed them by the visitors Monday afternoon. Kline, the ex-shoemaker twirler worked for the locals in the first game and showed good form, holding the visitors down to four hits, and allowing but one run to score on his delivery. Freeman was on the mound for the visitors and pitched excellent ball, but a pass of the first man up, followed by a stolen base, and sacrifice permitted the locals to score one in the first, and three hits bunched in the second landed another tally, which proved to be the winning run. The contest was fast and interesting throughout, being featured by a phenomenal catch by Little Reilly, of the foul fly near the bleachers. Taylor, who has been taking care of the left garden was the victim of an accident in the fourth inning when he was sliding to first, and the spikes on his right foot caught in the sack, turned his leg under him and causing a severe strain. Reilly, who has been laying off on account of a similar affliction, took his place and showed that he is about well again.

There was a large crowd of the fair sex in the stand, which seemed to have the proper effect upon the players and the ginger displayed, resulted in a pretty exhibition. The attendance was all that could be expected for a week day, the crowd numbering about 450 admissions, the ladies being admitted free and represented what should be a fair crowd for every week day game on local grounds. There is no doubt that a good crowd acts as a tonic to the players, and a better game results, although Captain Fohl has been working every moment, regardless of this feature. The first game in detail:

First Inning.—Meehan struck out. Gnadinger walked and stole second. Smith grounded out to Skyles. Taylor was retired on a bunt by Schantz. No runs.
Second Inning.—Flood flew out to Taylor. Flood hit safe to short, and reached third on Kettler's single to left. Kettler stole second and Flood was caught napping at third by Fohl. Biery grounded out. Finks to Skyles. No runs.
Third Inning.—Meehan struck out. Gnadinger walked and stole second. Smith grounded out to Skyles. Taylor was retired on a bunt by Schantz. No runs.
Fourth Inning.—Flood flew out to Taylor. Flood hit safe to short, and reached third on Kettler's single to left. Kettler stole second and Flood was caught napping at third by Fohl. Biery grounded out. Finks to Skyles. No runs.

Second Game.
In the second contest the men began to show the effects of play and the results was a slow game Schantz officiated for the visitors on the firing line, and the first two men up found his delivery safely. Finke knocked a clean one to right and Newham followed with a double in the same territory, scoring Finke. He proved equal to the occasion in the second, but in the third his wildness was costly. Finke singled to center, Newham struck out, R. Miller singled to right and Fohl walked, filling the bases. Fohl succeeded in drawing another pass, forcing Finke across the plate, when Skyles doubled to right, scoring Miller and Fohl, totalling three runs for the inning which ended the game getting for the locals, for Schantz settled down and pulled himself out of every hole.

Walter Miller began the work for the locals and for four innings did not allow them a hit. In the sixth Gnadinger and Davy drew a walk and Smith was hit, filling the bases. Captain Fohl then used the derrick and substituted Pickett. Flood was next up and sacrificed to the outfield, scoring Gnadinger. Kettler grounded out, Newham to Skyles and Smith scored on the play. Braderick Damage Case Comes to Trial in Common Pleas.

JURY IS OUT ON RUSSELL CASE.

Wife Seeks Separation on the Grounds of Abandonment.

In common pleas court Wednesday morning, the work of selecting a jury was begun in the case of Braderick vs. the East Iron and Machine Co. In this case the plaintiff seeks to recover $25,000 damages for the loss of his sight, which, it is alleged, was caused through the negligence of the defendant. Braderick was employed as a cupola tender at the East Iron and Machine Co., and alleges that through an explosion resulting from defective equipment, the sight of both of his eyes was destroyed.

The case has been tried twice before in common pleas court. In the first instance, the jury returned a verdict for $5,000, and the same was set aside and a motion for a new trial granted.

In the second trial, the jury failed to agree.

Jury Out.

In the case of Frank Russell against the Buckeye Pipe Line Co., the jury retired at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening. The plaintiff sued for $500 damages for injuries sustained through the alleged fault of the defendant. He was employed in painting tanks on the tank farm south of the city, and charges that the foreman, under whose direction he was working, dropped a clevish of a ladder outfit, which struck him on the back, causing permanent injuries.

The jury in the Russell case reported at two o'clock this afternoon, the verdict being "no cause of action."

She states that she is the owner of lot 332 in Deland, and further that she believes that the defendant is the owner of property at Chattanooga, Tenn., and asks for a decree, and alimony and that the defendant be barred from any court right in her property.

PARK IN EAST LIMA

Will be Named After Martyred Statesman and President.

LINCOLN PARK WILL BE NAME

Given at Dedication of the Pleasure Resort on July 15th.

The meeting of the East End Improvement Club last night was productive of much business as this was time for the election of officials for the carrying on of the splendid work which has already been done by the club.

This part of the business session did not take long as all the old officials were re-elected as follows:

President, H. H. Brown; vice president, C. E. Williams; secretary, Walter Shull; treasurer, George McCaulley.

The most important thing done at the meeting was the decision regarding the name by which the new park will be known. Several very pretty cognomens were offered, but it seemed to be the wish of the majority that this beautiful natural park be known as "Lincoln Park," and it will be christened accordingly. It seemed eminently fit and proper that on the one hundredth anniversary year of the birth of the great statesman and martyr this new pleasure ground should be dedicated in his name. It is most every city of any great size has a park called by the name of Lincoln, and the club was only following this precedent when they selected the name.

The committees having in charge the details regarding the dedication of July 15th, made a full report of each part of the work, and everything is moving along as nicely as possible. The grading of Shawnee street is practically completed, and the pretty foot bridge over the ravine which is one of the beauties of the park is also nearly finished. Flower beds are being mapped out and planted, and every resident of the east end is taking a personal interest in the work, and boosting it for all they are worth.

One new member, O. R. Spurrier, was admitted to the club last night, and will assist in the work in every possible way. If everything is carried out as planned, Lincolns will have a delightful program to enjoy on the dedication day, July 15th.

THREATENED LIFE.

Mrs. Orville Gardner Victim of Vicious Assault by Husband.

ASSAILANT MADE ESCAPE.

Presence of Mind Warded Knife Thrust from Victim's Throat.

As a result of a vicious attack upon her by her husband, Mrs. Orville Gardner is suffering with a severely wounded hand. The victim and her husband have been separated since January last, and according to her story, he has often threatened her life. About 10:30 o'clock this morning Gardner visited the home of his wife at 312 north Jackson street, and was refused admission. He proceeded to break open a window and gained entrance to the house. Mrs. Gardner has been ill for several weeks and was just able to be sitting up in an arm chair. The assailant tore the telephone from the wall and made a thrust at her throat with a pocket knife. She saw his movement and threw her left hand to her throat, which received the force of the blow, cutting in the fleshy part of the hand, a gash about three inches long and an inch in depth. Gardner walked coolly from the house, and when last seen by neighbors, went down an alley toward the C. H. & D. railway tracks. Dr. Neville was summoned to dress the wound and the police notified, but at the time of going to press the husband had not been located.

Gardner raised a disturbance at his home in January, when the police were summoned. He then agreed that he would leave her and not molest her again, but, it is said, he has called and threatened her life on several occasions since then, when he was under the influence of liquor.

ORPHIUM THEATRE.

Everybody seems to be taking advantage of the last opportunity of seeing the Orphium show, this week, as this theatre will close its doors at the finish of this week, until September 1st.

The show is an exceptionally good one throughout. Every act is good, and has gained a favorable place in the hearts of every one who has seen them.

"The Broomstick Witches," with Miss Frankie Drew as the leading soloist is a beautiful number, and well staged. Besides Miss Drew there is a chorus of six clever and handsome young girls. The act is under the direction of Harry Dull, who appears as "His Satanic Majesty."

Another act of great merit is "The Great Kinsners," in a marvelous balancing act. Nothing that can be lifted better. Mr. Kinsner. He balances everything from a carnation to a breaking plow, which weighs close to 200 pounds.

On Friday night the management has arranged to give to every person who attends the Orphium theatre a 50-cent copy of the latest song, entitled "The Possum." This is the latest song hit and is written especially for President Taft. The entire rights for this song has been bought and all rights reserved.

Don't miss this opportunity to get a 50-cent copy of music and see a big show for the same admission.

DOCTOR WILEY

CHARGES THAT POOR AND IMITATION JELLIES

And Jams Are Being Used in the Charitable Institutions.

POLICE TAKEN TO SERIOUS TASK

For Their Method of Handling of the Children, Especially Boys.

Photography is Becoming Necessary to the Social Worker.

Buffalo, June 14.—Health and sanitation was the first subject discussed at today's session of the national conference of Charities and Corrections. In the absence of Dr. Harvey Wiley, of the United States Department of Agriculture, John S. Fulton, of Philadelphia, read a paper prepared by Dr. Wiley on "The food supplies of charitable and semi-charitable institutions."

Dr. Wiley charged that the use of imitation jams and jellies, of low grade flours, of meats which do not command good prices, of imitation syrups and flavoring extracts, of electro-magnetic, etc., in public charitable institutions had been extensive and continuous.

"In so far as the matter of nutrition is concerned," said Dr. Wiley, "it appears to me that the question is an open one. In other words, it does not appear that there is any obligation resting upon the public authorities to purchase the highest grades of the articles used in institutions of the kind mentioned. But there is another aspect of the question which is of grave importance, and that is, that the inmates of such institutions should not be required and expected to eat filthy, decomposed or putrid foods of any description, or those which have been depreciated in character by any method of manufacture, nor to eat foods to which substances of doubtful wholesomeness have been added."

"In a recent investigation by the Department of Agriculture, made for the purpose of ascertaining the character of food supplied the inmates of a number of hospitals, asylums for orphans and the insane, almshouses, schools for the blind, deaf and dumb, soldiers' homes, work houses and prisons, it was found that a general thing the fare at these institutions is of the plainest kind consistent with necessary food value, and the supplies are generally purchased by the governing bodies, on contract, and with a decided leaning toward economy."

"As a part of our investigation a number of samples of foods were selected for technical examination. Some of these were found to be very deficient in character, as for illustration—the total number of coffee samples analyzed, seventeen per cent. were found to be of good quality and true to name; the remaining eighty-three per cent. all contained a varying proportion of immature and dead beans which ranged from six per cent. to twenty-nine per cent., and some of the samples contained other impurities such as stems and mineral matter. It is something more than a coincidence that all of the impure samples had been glazed. No one can assume that this process had been resorted to in order to conceal inferiority. One sample of tea was adulterated with twenty-five per cent. of pea hulls and contained some starchy matter in addition. One sample of maple syrup contained not more than fifty per cent. of actual maple syrup. Some samples of canned corn, represented to be sugar corn, consisted largely of hard grains and were decidedly flat and inferior in taste. One sample of canned tomatoes consisted more of liquid than solid product. A sample of dried peas

CATARH MICROBES

A Dead Microbe is the Best Microbe. Hyomei Kills Them All.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) is a killer of catarrh germs, because when you breathe it in, its antiseptic and germicidal properties reach every nook and crevice of the mucous membrane from the mouth and nose deep into the lungs.

Hyomei brings the Australian forests of pine and eucalyptus to your home. It is made of the active principles extracted from these trees. No one who lives in or near these forests suffers from catarrh. No one who breathes in Hyomei, will have catarrh for long after the treatment starts.

If you want to cure catarrh, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, or relieve consumption, try Hyomei, the common-sense cure, the cure that reaches the spot.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including a hard rubber inhaler, costs only $1.00, and extra bottles of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50c. Guaranteed to cure, or money back sent, and guaranteed in Lima by W. M. Melville.

contained a small amount of gelatin used in a hospital developed an offensive odor. The odor was so strong that it was necessary to remove the gelatin. A sample of the very low grade gelatin used was analyzed and contained ten per cent. of water. In the case of the institution we have mentioned, an contractor supplied a lot of over one thousand pounds of gelatin. When it was used, it was found to be of such low grade that it was necessary to remove it. A vigilant inspection of this product before it was used into consumption. At one time we found one grade of gelatin was used by the attendants and a cheaper grade used by the inmates, as was also the case with butter.

From the foregoing, it is perfectly clear that some system of supervision of the dietaries of institutions is to be developed.

F. C. Lunkworthy, expert in the department of agriculture, in reporting the results of recent investigation of the dietaries of charitable institutions, said that with the information already available regarding the composition, digestibility and nutritive value of food materials, average values for waste, and other standard data, it is now possible for a nutrition expert to examine and pass upon different features of an institution diet, including cost and nutritive value as it is for an expert accountant to pass upon the financial aspect of any business firm to whose books he has access.

The results are as practical and as valuable in the one case as in the other," said Mr. Lunkworthy, "and the public owes it to the inmates of public institutions to have a nutrition expert, in reporting the results of recent investigation of the dietaries of charitable institutions, said that with the information already available regarding the composition, digestibility and nutritive value of food materials, average values for waste, and other standard data, it is now possible for a nutrition expert to examine and pass upon different features of an institution diet, including cost and nutritive value as it is for an expert accountant to pass upon the financial aspect of any business firm to whose books he has access."

"The police attitude toward children, especially boys, is all wrong. The children of the immigration instead of looking upon the policeman as a friend and regarding him as an enforcer of the law which they should respect, regard him as their natural enemy and try to get even with him by breaking the law and escaping consequences. Recently a Chicago policeman arrested a boy who was running along the side of a cell and when he was released the next day, as there was no charge against him, gave him the advice not to try running again. Another one arrested a boy for some trifling offense, saying 'I will land you in the penitentiary yet, you young scamp, you can't escape me.' The same criticism can be applied to the special detectives employed by large houses and manufacturing concerns. They will punish a boy who has stolen regardless of the individual or the circumstances which led to the theft. They will, a possible, put him in the penitentiary, quite forgetting that in so doing they lose the chance of making a good citizen and that the boy is damned forever; for the youth who has been in prison feels that he has paid the full penalty and, after his release, finding himself without friends or employment feels that he has a grievance against society. It grows in his lot with outcasts, and often becomes a confirmed criminal."

Mrs. Bowen also presented another side of the picture, when speaking of some of the problems clustering about the lives of immigrants and their children. She told of a group of Russian girls who were living together. Several of them tried to commit suicide. One succeeded; another one, who failed, gave as her reason that there was nothing of interest in this country, no great issues at stake, that we were too commercial and only cared for money, that no one there bound together by any historic memories, that we knew nothing about European affairs, either political or religious, that life in America was nothing but one great economic struggle, unrelieved by literature or art, that she was tired of getting seventy-five cents for twelve dollars and that was to be worn by someone who cared nothing for the welfare of the woman who made it.

In conclusion, Mrs. Bowen said, "we hear a great deal about race suicide and the children yet unborn—we are only just beginning to pay attention to the thousands already born. We do not know how many there are, for we have no national birth registration law; we do not know how many die at birth or in childhood because we have no national registration of deaths, we only know that thousands of children are battling against heredity and environment, struggling for fresh air, nourishing food, decent housing, pure work in factories and shops, their bodies stunted and their minds warped, are pushing their way up through a mass of obstacles toward manhood and womanhood."

"Photography is slowly but surely establishing itself as a necessary aid to the social worker," said Lewis W. Hine, of the Bureau of Social Survey, in an address before the Section of Social Hints. Mr. Hine has begun to make a photographic record of the life of the modern toiler in the great industries of this country, and of tenement dwellers in American cities, that is comparable with the work of E. S. Curtis in his wonderful photographic history of the American Indian.

"The value of such records to the present and future generations," said the speaker, "cannot be overestimated. They will do more for the education of the people than many volumes of written history and description, because it is one of the functions of the social worker, to educate half of society as to 'how the other half lives,' and so to secure remedies for social ills, he must use photography more and more, for the picture is often more effective than the reality could have been. In the picture the unsocial and conflicting interests have been eliminated. The picture is the language of all nations and all ages, and it tells a story packed into the most condensed and vital form."

THE GROWING GERMAN PERIL.
Official utterances Saturday at Kiel and London were of a kind to increase the military tension upon the bond between England and Germany. The further toward the snapping point Lord Rosebery, who is a thin but earnest spokesman of the truth when he said to the delegates of the imperial press congress that, while there was no specific issue threatening war yet the preparations for conflict were unprecedented in history. At the hour Lord Rosebery was speaking there were no reports of "scurry ships" in the offing, but the newspapers were filled with the account of belittled addresses by members of the German government. While these addresses of professions of peaceful intention in general, the talk at the German navy league meeting was direct in its challenge to Great Britain. There is no doubt that Count Reventlow voiced the feelings of the great mass of his countrymen when he declared England's claim that she must rule the seas is "preposterous" and that "England has no divine right to dominate the ocean." —New York Press.

SIXTH DEGREE OWNERS.
If a few home owners are apt to get too far in reaching purposes another year, but who will make a nice piece of nation to next winter.

One or two gentle owners may be left with the lambs to keep them in the summer. The owners of the summer are taken or induced they should be careful for the milk drawn.

Consider a good winter in every pasture. Have the opening on the south.

A sour, dirty feeding pail may cause the death of your best calf from scours.

Every feeding pail should daily be first rinsed in cold water then scalded with boiling water and dried in the sun.

Keep the calf stable dry and clean. A wet, dirty stable will check the growth of every calf in it, and a check in growth means a loss in dollars and cents.

Plant evergreen corn in early June for September use. Toward the end of June plant early and late corn for October use.

One feed cold and the next hot will cause indigestion and then scours.

Sweet skim-milk and a little flaxseed jelly will induce rapid and healthy growth in the calf.

A little meal in the feed box will bring the cows promptly to the gate at milking time.

In matching for whippings should contain from twenty to twenty-five per cent of fat, never below twenty per cent. It should be at least twelve hours old. The temperature should be 40° or below.

If you have not made arrangements to get the hogs out on the grass do so at once.

A cheap fence can be built with posts, and hemlock boards ten inches wide with two barbed wires on top.

This fence will keep hogs, give them health and the owner profit.

As soon as the pigs are weaned the sows should be turned with the male and then put by themselves in a good clover pasture.

A clover field is a paradise for hogs and a money-maker for their owner.

Don't compel hogs to go a long distance for water when the heat waves shimmer and dance in the distance. Fresh water at hand at all times is a matter of vital importance; and the sloop should be fed every day as made, and not be allowed to rot in the swill barrel.

The most insidious enemies of the average hog raiser are lice and worms. The feeder will often insist that he has neither in his pens, when a careful examination will detect the presence of both in large numbers. We prefer to dip all pigs soon after weaning, and to give them a course of treatment with worm powder.

WHEN THE JUDGES ENTER.
The United States Supreme Court the most widely anticipated event in the judicial calendar in America has adopted a new wrinkle. It is copied from the exclusive United States Senate, and is calculated to add a little more gravity form and solemnity to the court. It is a red electric light, the purpose of which is to warn persons in the court that the judges are approaching and that everyone must maintain respect and silence.

The red electric light is placed immediately over the door through which the judges make their entrance. The moment it flashes red it is a signal for everyone to rise and remain standing until the nine black-robed figures have taken their places. This business of taking their seats in the court as performed by the justices is mighty impressive. It might be termed a function.

The jurists form in line in the little room reserved for their use, with Chief Justice Fuller at the head of the procession. Then follow his associates in the order of seniority: Harlan, Brandeis, White, McKenna, Holmes, Day and Moody. When they reach the outer corridor leading to the court room a page touches a button and the red bulb glows.

With slow undignified tread the justices enter the court room and file behind the row of pillars in the rear of their seats. The chief justice, Mr. Harlan and Mr. Brewer step behind their respective chairs and stand motionless. When Judge Tackham, Holmes and Moody have reached their places to the left, and White, McKenna and Day to the right, the chief justice steps forward. The others do the same, and then as one man they sink into their seats.

The justices' lunch hour is clocked by the stars and moon and the clock at the National Observatory. At 2 o'clock, to the second, the chief justice announces: "We will suspend here." There is no appeal from that decision. At 2:30, not one second before or after, the justices return to the court room and the hearing is resumed. Washington Letter in Brooklyn Eagle.

THE COST OF A BATTLESHIP.

An official of the navy department is authority for the statement that a battleship can be completed in this country at a cost a trifle less than that of a British or German battleship. Merchant ships can be constructed so much cheaper abroad than here that nobody builds them in this country and consequently there is apparently no American merchant marine. The difference in the cost of the low rates obtained by the government for armor. The armor plate for the Arkansas and Wyoming, the two 26,000-ton vessels just contracted for will cost the government about $400 a ton. There will be nearly 5000 tons of this material used. For practically the same armor the British government is charged $600 a ton. Washington Letter in Brooklyn Eagle.

A SMART DOG.

(Life.)
Some of the animals have delightful traits. On May 17 Harry Morrison got stuck in a quagmire near Chester, Penn., and was slowly sinking. He shouted for help as long as he could. Nobody saw him but a sheep dog, who happened to be passing. The dog ran down to the tracks of the Reading Railroad and managed to attract the attention of William Peet, of Chester, whom he led to Morrison's relief. Peet got help and managed to get Morrison out. But the dog "scampered off as soon as it saw that Morrison was safe."

That was nice of the dog. Never let a card, or gave his name to the reporters, or filed an application for a Carnegie medal; just run out as soon as he saw he was not needed. The dog did not know Morrison and nobody knows the dog.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from all eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by eruptions, pimples, boils, or some more definitely marked skin disorder, such as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc.

Humors get into the blood, usually because of an inactive or sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste matter and refuse of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and is absorbed into the blood. Soon the circulation becomes filled with an acrid, irritating humor.

The blood then, instead of performing its natural duty of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its uniform softness, pliability and healthfulness, irritates and diseases the delicate tissues and fibers around the pores and glands and produces some of the various forms of skin eruption or disease.

The cause of all skin affections can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Healthy cuticles are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin disease can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., cannot cure. True such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort, helps to reduce inflammation, and aids in keeping the affected parts clean, but it does not reach the blood, where the real cause is located, and at best can be only palliative and soothing.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind because it purifies and cleanses the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, and all other skin diseases and affections. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs, a safe vegetable remedy.

When S. S. S. has driven the humors from the blood, and cooled and purified the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skin.

S. S. S. cures Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, Nettle Rash, and all other troubles due to a humor-laden blood. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

SCHOOLS THAT KILL.

If the health of school children is not built up in our schools where and when shall it be built up? asks Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner of Indiana, in an article in the Journal of Education. Leave it to parents? he continues. Then leave education to parents. They will attend to the education about as well as they attend to the health as well as the health of their children. What a wicked thing an unhealthy schoolhouse is. Unhealthy surroundings for hogs and chickens would be counted foolish and extravagant. Then what is to have unhealthy surroundings for school children? Does someone say, "Our schoolhouses are not unhealthy?" Then why did 1,329 school children die in Indiana in 1905? Why were there more than twenty thousand cases of sickness among our school children in the same year? Why were there 429 schools closed for longer or shorter periods on account of sickness?

"Caught their sickness at home," did they? Then why did the 20,000 sick children get well when they were kept out of school and stayed at home? We now thoroughly understand that the foundations of knowledge and morals must be laid in childhood. How about the foundations of ill health laid in school in adult life? Why insanity? Why rufimism? Why crime? Are they solely in the blood or is it possible that a percentage is started in school life? Is it not likely that children with defective eyesight, defective hearing, defective respiratory apparatus, who are forced to struggle against these defects and who are scolded, set back and punished because they cannot keep up with normal children, are forced into insanity, crime and rufimism?

We are indeed, a wasteful and extravagant people, for to force children into unsanitary schoolhouses, and thus force upon them sickness, and thus cultivate physical defects, and thus to produce not a little insanity, crime and rufimism, is indeed, wasteful and extravagant. It is wicked, too.

Why do not teachers refuse to teach in unsanitary schoolhouses? Such schoolhouses are slow poison in general life in Indiana, one in eight persons die from consumption; among teachers one in 53. The annual death rate in the whole state was 13.26 in 1905. The death rate among teachers was 16.7. Fully 70 per cent of the schoolhouses in Indiana are unsanitary.

$352,707.00 DEPOSITED AT FIVE PERCENT.

Safe, Secure, Convenient For Savings and Deposits.

Nine years ago The Lima Home & Savings Association began paying 5 percent on deposits in any amount with privilege of compound interest. On account of the safe and secure manner in which such deposits have been handled, many people of large and small means, have accepted the very liberal opportunity of having their funds invested at a rate that is worth while, until nearly $353,000 have accumulated earning 5 percent. These deposits are used by this association only for loans on city and farm homes in Lima and vicinity. Nothing but first mortgages are taken to secure these loans; ample insurance is required for the Association's protection as well as frequent reduction of principal.

Another feature of safety is the annual examination by the state authority to which this Association is subject. The last examination was completed on the 26th of May, 1909, and included an investigation of all of the Association's investments and securities.

All persons with money to lay by at the liberal rate this Association has been paying for many years, who are seeking a place where safety, security and convenience, are in every particular of its business, are invited to its office in the Masonic building, west of the postoffice, Lima, Ohio.

THE MARKETS.

New York, June 16.—The stock market opened weak with a showing of sharp declines for most of the favorite speculative issues. The first sales of United States steel were of 1000 shares of $60 compared with 674 last night. The stock afterwards sold below 66. Rock Island ran off 1/4; Anaconda copper 1/4; Great Northern preferred 1/4; Northern Pacific 1/4; U. S. Wheat in Cereals.
Chicago, June 16.—Buying by shorts caused a fair rally in the wheat market today following a further decline of 1/4 to 1/2 % at the opening based on the favorable outlook for the new crop in this country. Aside from rains in northern Kansas and Oklahoma which may delay harvest and news in general was of a bearish nature. Little enthusiasm was manifested in the early part of the day and the volume of trading was small. July which opened at $1.15 1/2 advanced to $1.15 3/4.

Corn was inclined to be weak owing to weather conditions which are almost ideal for the rapid growth of the new crop. July opened unchanged to 1/4 lower at 71 1/2 to 72, sold off to 71 1/2.

Weather conditions were also a bearish factor in the oats market and a heavy ton prevailed early in the day. Prices at the opening were 1/4 to 1/2 lower; July being at 51 1/2 to 52 1/2. For a time prices held within the opening range.

Provisions opened firm on continued light receipts of live hogs, but weakened early in the day on profit taking. Prices at the start were 2 1/2 to 7 1/2 cents higher.

WONDERFUL SETTLE.

(Chicago Tribune).
The Mediterranean of the western world is Puget Sound, which furnishes innumerable harbors and facilities for commerce. Its shore line is over 1,100 statute miles, independent of the American shore of the straits of San Juan de Fuca and the archipelago of islands known as the San Juan Islands. If the Pacific Ocean is to become the "chief theater of events in the world's hereafter," Puget Sound, Richard A. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior, believes, will assuredly become the chief center of American transportation from the western coast of the continent, and the port of Seattle the greatest port of entry for this commerce where land and water transportation so advantageously meet.

The contour maps of the geological survey show that Seattle, like New York, has her land area like a shoe sticking. The residential growth runs northward, the commercial growth southward up the Duwamish Valley and covering the tidal lands and level areas, which by necessity become the convenient location for railway terminals and manufacturers. Through this it is proposed to build a canal into Lake Washington. There is also a canal proposed from Puget Sound through Lake Union into Lake Washington for deep water traffic.

Seattle is a city built in a single generation. Twenty years ago it was a struggling town of Washington territory, without a direct line of railway connecting with the East or any foreign lines of ocean transportation. Today four transcontinental lines run trains out of Chicago for Seattle and soon there will be others. Seattle has direct communication with Japan and Chinese ports and the Hawaiian Islands. In the last 12 years Seattle's freight business has increased over 400 per cent. This increase is matched over 400 per cent. This increase is matched in the population.

The last census gave Seattle about 80,000. The next census will give her over 200,000 people. Seattle is the gateway to Alaska. The millions of gold yearly produced in Alaska and the fruits of her other resources largely filter through the avenues of trade in Seattle or are invested in the state of Washington.

THE POULTRY YARD.

(Farm Journal).
The house is a night hawk. Rush the broilers along. The quicker you can get them on the market the better for you. What is prettier than a bunch of thrifty, chicks, all of one color and breed, and as much alike as so many peas?

Is the Wrong Pew.
Mr. Cash, of the Florida legislature, wanted to purify the primary election laws. The less cash figures in the primaries the better it will be, we think.—Washington Herald.

Hens feel the warm weather as much as other folks. Give them a shady place to sit down once in a while and rest. They will do all the better for it.

Some folks think that hens do not need oyster-shells when they can run out. Just try giving them some and see how that is. You will be wiser after that.

My method for keeping hens from troubling the poultry at night is to suspend the roosting poles by wires from the rafters of the house. If the poles are smooth, the lice will not remain on them if they are there at all.

Turkey hens are profitable until five years old, but it is a good plan to change the gobblers every year. It requires 25 days to hatch a turkey egg, and seven eggs are considered a setting. The nests should be on the ground.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

(Farm Journal).
Keep hoes sharp with a file. Make three successive plantings of sweet corn this month, at ten-day intervals.

Never pick berries for market when they are wet. And, when picked, hurry them to a cool place out of the sun.

Cut off, at any time, any suckers you may find growing at the foot of fruit trees or on the trunk or main limbs where branches should not grow.

Muzzle the horses and pad the outside portions of whiffleires and harrow when cultivating the orchard, thus avoiding all bruised and "barke" trees.

Pay an occasional friendly visit to the little trees set this spring. Rub off unnecessary sprouts, and make sure that no label wires have been left on the trees to choke them.

Watch for the little slugs—darkish, slimy fellows—that are likely to be on pear or cherry leaves now. Fine, dry dust if thrown in the trees, will kill every slug it covers. Or almost any of the regulation orchard sprays will exterminate this pest.

One ounce of California buhach dissolved in three gallons of water is a good, non-poisonous spray application for cabbage worms and beet.

The imported "Persian insect powder" is the same thing, but is not so fresh and effective as the California article.

Cabbage and other plants can be protected from cutworms by erecting a two-inch-high paper fence around each stem. Lay the paper ends and push the "fence" an inch into the soil to hold it in place. The paper should not come nearer to the stem than about 1 1/4 inches.

The asparagus beetle is a troublesome pest, not easy to control, says Rural New-Yorker. Chickens are fond of them and will rid garden beds of the adults, but, of course, can be of little benefit in large fields. Clean cutting, especially in ridge culture, keeps them well under control in spring, but the slugs or larvae do considerable harm later.

Don't forget to keep picking the cucumbers as they ripen. Look through the vines carefully (they have a great way of hiding in the leaves), so that none will be overlooked; for two or three large ones going to seed will sap the strength of their vine, whereas in picking them right along new ones will form and a continued supply be secured.

The Bordeaux mixture is the proper remedy to use for all fungous troubles: vizz., mildew and rust of beans; potato and tomato rot and leaf-blight; melon and cucumber diseases; celery leaf-blight; and rust.

The half-strength mixture (two pounds copper sulphate, two pounds quicklime, fifty gallons water) is strong enough, except for potatoes. Look out for the striped beetles. They often attack and destroy melons and cucumbers as fast as the plants appear above the ground. An application of wood-ashes, air-slaked lime, or gypsum, tainted with kerosene or turpentine or carbolic acid, will help to drive them away. If you have only a few plants, you can easily protect each hill by erecting a mosquito netting guard over it until the plants begin to run.

There are three common methods of growing strawberries—in hills, in narrow matted rows, or in wide matted rows. We prefer the second method. Arrange the first strong runners by hand, spacing them properly and securing each one in place with a little soil or a small stone. Then, when each row is full, cut off all additional runners that may grow. Keep the ground hoed and cultivated until late fall. The finished row should not be wider than fifteen or eighteen inches.

BEARS ARE JOLLY.

"Rarely are bears born ill-tempered. They may show some resentment at the time of their capture, when but two months old, but this feeling soon disappears, leaving a jolly rogue ever willing to box and wrestle. I once knew a cub that was a regular terror," says a writer in Collier's "and he never reformed. He would attack anything regardless of its size or strength."

"At the age of three months he would charge at me, snorting, sniffing and striking with his tiny paws, and when I did not protect myself he seized my trousers leg between his teeth and shook it violently."

"At first I thought that he had been abused by his former owner and that by kind treatment he would soon outgrow his temper, but no, he just had it in him and he became more and more dangerous as time sped by."

"Finally he grew large enough to be put in with the mature bears without danger of his squeezing between the bars and escaping, and to the surprise of everyone he immediately took charge of the den. Old bears twenty times his size, possibly from sense of honor, if animals have honor, submitted to cuffs and slaps in the face and actually allowed him to snatch food from their mouths without resenting the insult."

TODAY'S PARADE WAS SPLENDID SPECTACLE OF MUSIC AND COLORS

Thirty eight Bands Played Merrily All Along the Line of March.

THIS EXTENDED
SEVERAL MILES

And Gay Decorations Were Seen Everywhere from Start to Finish.

The parade in a gay scene in Lima today. Bands were stationed at intervals along the sound of life and color. The visiting hosts who arrived in the city trains and in fact some were coming at all hours of the day. From five-thirty until after the noon hour every train on street and traction road, brought scores and the crowd was augmented by delegations of hundreds of men, all drawn by the greatest convention the Volunteer Firemen ever had.

They came from all over North-western Ohio and from every little town. A road on the map of this section. The larger cities furnished their quota also and in addition our neighboring state of Indiana sent a large delegation of volunteer firemen each with its band from the cities of Montpelier, Bluffton and Tipton City. These latter did not compete in the parade for prizes but wanted to see the fun and have a part in the great doings of the day.

The reception committees were kept busy and they proved equal to the emergencies, meeting each party as they arrived, and assisting them in finding their headquarters. Not only men but women and children came to see the great parade and meet old friends they had not seen for years. It was nothing unusual this morning to hear one old acquaintance hail another half a block away with a hearty word of greeting and a county fair is not a circumstance to the streets of Lima today when it comes to finding old friends and making new ones.

For those who have been in control of the affair however is not all a pleasure. They have been busy every hour in the day in the endeavor to see that their guests are having a good time and that everything possible is being done for their comfort. The headquarters at the Norval Hotel have been frequented today by throngs of people and those who have information are always ready to give it.

Business Session.
The appointment of committees as made by President Runyon at the short business session held at ten o'clock this morning at Memorial Hall was as follows:

Committee on Credentials—M. M.

CHARLES E. FISHER,
Chairman of Entertainment Committee.

"Yesterday" was held in place by what seemed to be old Father Time himself.

The first fire engine was also in the front division, and so was Old Judge, gaily caparisoned in red, white and blue, with a blanket bearing his name and age. He and old Tom, another snow white horse, and claiming to be one year older than Judge, and who appeared in the Delphos delegation, were received with cheers from the crowd of onlookers.

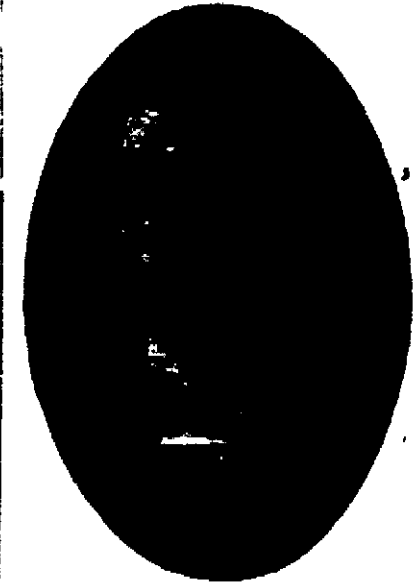

The entire fire department, steamer, hose wagons, ladder wagons, etc., was out and every ambulance in the city with a white capped nurse sitting beside the driver.

All the city officials, the officials of the Firemen's Association, and the old volunteer fire department of Lima were in vanguard in the first division.

The old coal cut company, with just a dozen men in line, holding the rope, was another feature, and to even begin to mention the excellence of the bands would be to commence an endless task.

Ottawa seems to be the one town out for the next convention as no other was seen unless it belonged near the end of the fourth division, which, with Walter Jackson at its head was bringing up the rear while the front division was disbanding on Central avenue.

Delegations, having especially good bands, and which seemed to be out for the prizes especially as far as looks and numbers were concerned

Committee on Resolutions—J. H. Polker, Napoleon, Fred Flynn, Ashland, P. F. Seibel, Defiance.

Committee on Finances—J. H. Von Stein, Upper Sandusky; M. H. Darby, Deshler; C. E. Fisher, Wapak.

The policemen's band, of Toledo, were announced to open the morning session and the fact that several of the speakers scheduled for the afternoon meeting are not present, necessitated some changes being made. Adjournment was made until the afternoon session, which will convene at the close of the parade.

There is only one word that can fittingly express the effect of the Volunteer Firemen's parade, and that is MAGNIFICENT. Lima has had parades that she has been delighted in; parades that appealed to the eye and to the ear, but for music, oceans of it and for bright colors, the parade of today has them all beat clear out of sight.

It had been advertised as an immense affair and it truly was. Mike after mile of bands, merrily playing all the popular airs, followed by gaily attired firemen, who joked and laughed with the people that lined the streets.

Just here it is well to say a word in reference to the decoration. True to their spirit of citizenship the people all along the route had decorated with bright flags, bunting, and gay colors of all kinds.

Grand Marshal F. M. Bell led the parade, and for length one can gain some little idea when it is said that the front of the column was just winding its way down Market street from the west when the fourth division was turning off from Vine onto Kibby at the other end of town. More than three miles in length, with a brass band every few rods, it was something calculated to make everybody in town turn out and look.

And they did, so did several thousand who had come expressly for this event, and the number of visitors cannot be estimated only as well into two figures in the thousands while others thousands marched in the line of the parade.

Special features which are the only things that can be mentioned now were the old Pacific, the first fire fighting wagon Lima ever had. This was covered with garlands of flowers in red, white and blue, while a large banner letter in black with the word program for the afternoon session of the convention was taken up.

The Wauseon band rendered a selection while the crowd was being seated in the auditorium, following which Dr. T. H. Campbell made the convocation.

The Heistand band, of Van Wert, then favored the assemblage with an appropriate selection.

Mayor Fred C. Becker, in a brief address, welcomed the firemen to our city, extending them a hearty hospitality in behalf of the citizens of Lima and wishing them a successful and enjoyable stay in our midst. The mayor also touched upon the noble work of the volunteers, who jeopardize their own lives in the effort to save the lives and property of others, for which they do not hope for reward.

Mayor Becker was heartily cheered by the large crowd assembled.

President Runyon, of the association, then responded to the welcoming address, as follows:

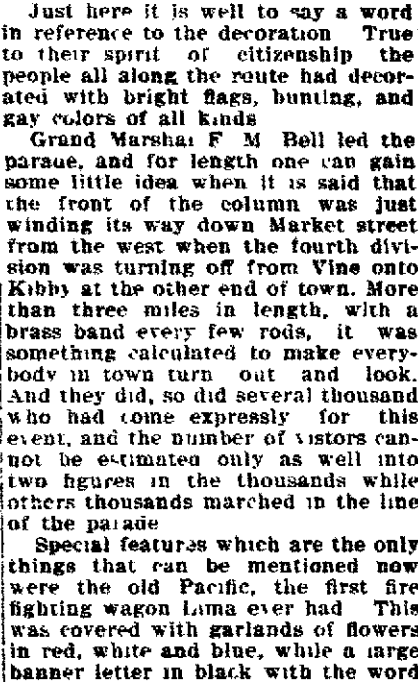

To the Honorable Mayor of Lima:—

It is with the utmost pleasure, Your Honor, that I on behalf of the Northwestern Ohio Volunteer Firemen's Association, acknowledge the hearty greeting extended to us by you on behalf of the good people of your most beautiful city. I know I voice the sentiment of every fireman when I say that we are sure we made no mistake when we selected this city for this year's convention. The evidence is conclusive. Your beautiful decorations, your kindly reception as we enter the city, the hearty cheers as we pass up your splendid thoroughfares, all indicate that we are doubly welcome.

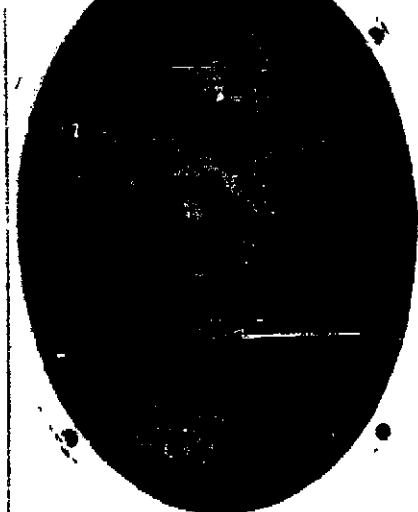

You present me, Your Honor, with the lock and key to your city. This is hardly necessary, for we knew from the very moment we entered your gates that the city was ours as long as we remain and act like men, which I believe every fireman will do, and it is hoped that when we shall have bid you and your good people adieu, it will be with the kindest feeling and with a hope that we may at some future time meet with you again.

This, Mr. Mayor, is the time once each year when we firemen meet for mutual council, renew old acquaintances and possibly make new friendships. Who would deny these boys (the volunteer firemen) one day each year for a little recreation? These are the boys who in the cold wintry night or the hot summer sun, in snow or rain, respond to the alarm of fire and hasten to the rescue of your lives and property, even at the risk of their own lives without even hope of reward. This is the volunteer.

And now, in conclusion, let me again thank you for your splendid welcome, and when the parting time comes, and we say farewell for a time at least may you cherish a pleasant recollection of our short stay with you and may this convention go down in the history of our association as one of the best ever held. And now to the firemen, I will admonish you. The city is ours for the time being, let us be discreet, be men and show the people of Lima that their welcome has not been in vain. Do this and I assure you there will be no regrets.

Defiance has indeed sent forth a "Defiance" and the other delegations will have to look to their laurels to be able to compete successfully with the immense delegation sent from that city. Men, women and children each one with the name of the town on their hat, or coat, are parading the streets and making the name known all over town.

The Defiance Crescent has the following concerning their delegation: On to Lima!

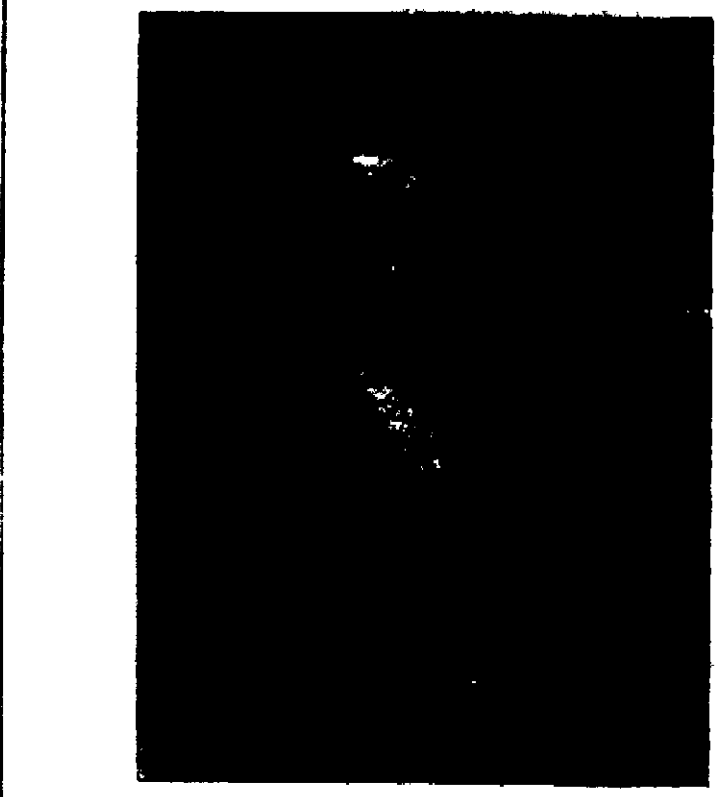

This is the slogan of thousands of volunteer fire fighters and their friends all over Northwestern Ohio. Tomorrow is the annual convention of the Northwestern Ohio Volunteer Firemen's Association at Lima, and the firemen and friends all over this section of the state are making preparations to attend the big meeting in first class style. Defiance will be there. Defiance is always there. Last year Defiance sent over 1200 people to the Convention at Napoleon. This year it will send a monster delegation to Lima.

The Central and East Side fire departments of this city will combine. The central fire department will be headed by the Sixth Regiment band and the East Side department will go in full force. The central department and band will meet at the Central fire station at 8:00 a. m. They will march to the East Side fire station where they will be joined by the East Side department.

Lima is making great preparations to entertain the fire fighters and the largest convention in the history of the Northwestern Ohio Volunteer Firemen's Association is anticipated.

Want Mascot.

Edw. S. Bronson, of the Sixth Regt band is looking for a mascot for the band for the day of the firemen's convention. A young boy is wanted. He will be expected to march in the parade attired in full uniform. His other duties will be the carrying of light equipment. All expenses will be paid. Any boy desiring this honor is requested to call on Edw. S. Bronson.

were Gibsonburg, with a large delegation attired in white trousers, red coats and carrying blue umbrellas; Ottawa, with a splendid band and a large number of uniformed men; Defiance, with their bright yellow badges showing up against the pure white of their uniforms; while Van Wert Wapakoneta, and a number of others had good delegations.

Other bands were the Policemen's band from Toledo, accompanying the Milner Volunteer fire department of that city; the Hicksville band, the Bradner band, that of Chicago, Ohio, Conroy, Leipsic, and Holgate, the latter giving some beautiful drill work while crossing the different streets were all worthy of special mention.

It is impossible in a few minutes to do anything like justice to a parade like that of this afternoon and another review will be given later.

At the conclusion of the parade, the delegations proceeded to the Memorial building, where the pro-

CONVENTION NOTES.

Twenty-five clean cut, manly looking young boys, not one of whom smoke cigars or cigarettes, or visits saloons, and each bearing unmistakable evidence of good breeding and education, make up Hart's Boy Band of Hicksville which gave this office a splendid serenade this morning. After listening to their brilliantly rendered selections, we wish to add our emphatic to which Miss Amelia Bingham, the actress, said to Mr. Myron J. Schell, editor of the Hicksville Tribune, after hearing this band. Her opinion was: "That is the most remarkable boy musical organization in America today."

Hicksville takes great pride in the boys as is evidenced by the fact that the instrumentation and uniforms now represent $4,600, and Prof. Hart who is drilling them night and day can have anything he wants for his boys.

They have been asked to fill an engagement at the Wagona assembly this summer, and arrangements are about perfect that will permit the people of this city to hear the boys in a faurol opera house.

The Naval Reserve drum corps of the U. S. S. Essex, Toledo, favored this office with an appreciated serenade this morning.
